

Host an Exchange Student

Host

Each year, more than 1,000 exchange students from over 80 countries come to the U.S. on AFS programs to study in high schools and live with host families. By hosting an AFS Exchange Student in your home, you will welcome a new culture into your family, facilitate life-long connections, and see the world from a fresh perspective.

Experience

Opening your home to an exchange student is a wonderful opportunity for growth. Together you will experience each other's customs and cuisines, expand the hearts and minds of your children, and foster relationships that are sure to last a lifetime!

Impact

Hosting a young person from another country means you are shaping the lives of tomorrow's international leaders. Students can bring positive change to both their host and home communities long after their program ends. They will develop personal and professional connections to build a more just and peaceful world.

Our Community

For 20 years, Geneva has supported the AFS Mission as home to over 89 AFS students from 40 countries.
